Top Photo: April 29, 2014. Stephen was Kalum River Lodge first guest of the season and he landed his first ever Skeena River Steelhead. This super Steelhead was caught on an Intruder using a Sage rod. During the week with Stephen we fished three different rivers and as well as hooking Steelhead we had some good Trout fishing. It is great to be back on the rivers to chase after bright silver freshly run Steelhead, lively Trout and some early run Chinook Salmon. Andrew Rushton, Kalum River Lodge, Terrace, BC. If you are interested to be guided on this river, or any other river please contact me anytime. We also have ocean charters out of Kitimat, Prince Rupert and Haida Gwaii. Cast on photo to view in larger size

Skeena River

Water is low and light brown NOT fishable. Copper is cleaning so putting in less dirt...but most of the dirt is coming from tribs upriver. Fishing for Steelhead and Trout has been very GOOD...but...you got to know where and how to fish for em. You may want to consider hiring a guide for this, if so contact me anytime.

Caution: there is some ice along edges so please be careful walking on it. Most all of the summer run Steelhead have gone through the Terrace area and are way up in their trib rivers by now. Trout fishing is the only option now.

Kitimat Lodge Fishing Report - April 2014

Early Spring Steelhead Fishing

With the spring rain just starting up in the Kitimat area, the steelhead are trickling in and thank goodness as the Kitimat system is blown out as of today.

Attached are pics of the Italian stallions with a spring catch of steelhead on the Skeena system.

With the river so low the past week I had to fish some of my favourite haunts and took out the boot on my Woolridge. I used duct tape to get us back the 2 miles up river as the boot was badly beaten.

Our best day this week was with Art from the USA, hooking into 7 steelhead in one day landing the pair attached. Art said 2 of the steelhead he lost he thought were definitely over 20-pounds.

Also present is the awesome Crab fishing that is available out of Kitimat. Dungeness as well King Crab are on the menu.

We would like to thank Tracey Hittel for sending the above pics. Tracey's guiding season just started and as you can see the Steelheading is "FANTASTIC"...and fresh Dungeness Crab to eat at the lodge. Spring fishing just does not get any better than this. If you are interested to book a guided river trip or ocean charter contact me or Kitimat Lodge anytime.

SPRING STEELHEAD

Spring Steelhead begins this late March for 6 weeks. If the run of Steelhead was like last year our guests are going to hit pay dirt.

CHINOOK SALMON

Starting in May, thru to August, Chinook Salmon we target either by Jetboats or spacious driftboats, on the rivers, or 30ft Aluminum, twin Volvo Diesel, ocean vessel. All our boat are fully equipped with top of the line gear.

COHO SALMON

Late July to late September all 5 species of Salmon are in full charge from the ocean to the rivers. We intercept these Salmon either in the Saltwater or small coastal micro streams, using like tackle or fly.

HALIBUT and CRAB

May to November is best for Halibut and Dungeness Crab. For 2014 the size limit for Halibut has increased, retaining a 70lb fish, up from the 60lb fish in 2013

SUMMER - FALL STEELHEAD

The lower 100 miles of the Skeena and its tributaries are a Steelheders dream, miles of fly water to chase the elusive steelhead. With our access to Classified waters in Skeena country, this allows us flexibility and tranquility for our customers.

Kalum River:

20 Water is a little high but in very good shape in both the lower and upper ends. Steelhead fishing is fantastic. Good for getting around with both drift and jet boat. Guiding started April 1st. With clear sky; Theory: when this happens the fish are spooky and this seems to be the case now. Fishing is always better under cloudy skies. Gibbs #45 Lure works pretty good to catch Steelhead even under these conditions. Water is dropping so be careful if you take your jet boat. Might be time for the raft or drift-boat.

Pic taken April 8th:

Check out this article I wrote; a few years ago but still relevant today:

Drifting in Paradise - The upper Kalum River - by Noel Gyger

http://www.sportfishingbc.com/articles/freshwater_fishing/kalum.htm

Lakelse River:

Water is higher than normal and tea coloured. Steelhead fishing is slow. Check regs for the fly fishing only rule in some section. Steelhead are started to spawn in some sections, if you see them you should let them be and move on to other areas. Reg: Fly fishing only between Lakelse Lake and CNR bridge Mar 1 -May 31. Tip: Fly-fishing egg pattern flies work the best, also, the brighter the egg fly the better. Tip: Float fishing corkies (painted cork balls in various sizes) and a little bit of white wool works well. The bright red or orange ones are favored.

Zymoetz (Copper) River:

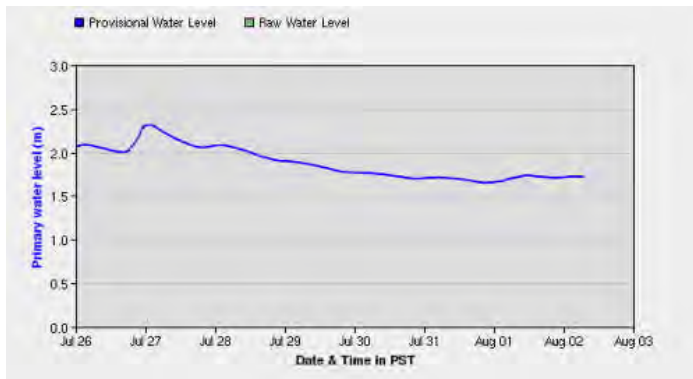

Pic taken afternoon April 17th

Pic taken afternoon April 25th

River still pretty brown...but I think it is cleaning.. Note: Zone Fishing closure. Reg: No Fishing above the sign at the transmission line crossing (below Zymoetz Canyon), Jan 1 - June 15. With this closure it leaves only a small section of the lower river to fish for Steelhead. The water is high and borderline fishable. When wet fly fishing give the Steelhead a chance to react when the fly comes drifting by. Dry fly works pretty good too. And for conventional here is a Tip: Float fishing the Pink Worm works very well in this river. Need a guide for 2014 in either the Class one or Class two section contact me anytime.

Kitimat River:

Water has been stable. I have reports of some good Steelheading. Looks like maybe it will be a good run this year. Chinook are just around the corner.

River is great shape and I have reports of some excellent Steelhead fishing. Trout fishing has been very good also.

Ariel Koppers reports: Once again Boaters Beware! Tree crossing the Kitimat River above Big Wedeene.

Justin Lowes, one of the senior guides for Reliable Guide and Charters says there are some Steelhead showing up. Stay tuned...

Recommended Fly Fishing Gear:

In the low water conditions of early April, we generally used light sink tips to cover the shallow riffles and tailouts where Steelhead were holding. Type 3 and Type 6 tips were generally all that was needed for most conditions. With the higher flows of late Spring, and in particular on the tributary rivers, we've also been using Rio's MOW tips in a variety of weights and lengths to get the fly down to the fish. The Heavy MOW tips, made of T-14 material, have been particularly useful, in lengths of 5, 7.5, 10 and 12.5 ft.

As with March, best colours have been pink, black, blue and orange. When fishing the Skeena and its tribs, larger flies from 2.5" to 4" in length have been most productive. Smaller flies in a variety of weights in the 1" to 2.5" range have worked the best on coastal rivers.

When targeting Steelhead, we've been using rods in the 12.5' to 13.5' ft range, for a 7 or 8 weight line on the larger rivers. Our personal favourites for this fishing include the 7126 Sage TCX and the 8139 Loomis Dredger. When targeting Chinook specifically, we've been using heavier 9 and 10 weight rods in the 13' to 15' range. Single hand rods and switch rods have gotten the nod on the coastal rivers. In particular, I had a chance to fish a 8116 Sage One rod and can confirm that it's a very good rod that's ideally suited to the coast!

Rods, Reels, Lines: For Steelhead - Spey rods in the 12' to 14' range, with a Skagit head to match. A 7126 TCX paired with a 500 grain Skagit Flight and Loomis 8139 Dredger with a 525 grain Skagit are excellent choices. A good quality disc or cork drag reel (e.g. Islander and Ross) with a minimum of 150 yards of 30 lb backing. For Spring Chinook Salmon, same as above, except with heavier gear - 9 weight minimum, 10 weight better.

Sink Tips and Tippet: A 15' Type III and 15' Type VI for most shallow water applications, and a variety of MOW tips - medium (T-11) and heavy (T-14) for deeper and/or heavier water. Always 15 lb Maxima Ultragreen for Steelhead. Increase tippet to 20 lb Maxima Ultragreen if targeting Spring Chinook.

Flies: Idylwilde String Leech, Bunny Tube, Marabou Tube and Popsickle, in shrimp pink, cerise, black, blue and orange.

Hi Noel, this is Sherry Lynn and I had the pleasure to introduce her to coho river fishing. We were fishing early October. You can see from her smile that she loves it. Cheers, Joe Vidal

History:

2007 March

The photo of the week shows the “elusive” 20-pound “wild” Steelhead. This fish was landed on the Kalum River on March 12th by Rob Vodola. This BIG fish gave Rob quite a tussle and after ten minutes he managed to land it...and I was fortunate to get a video clip of most of the action. To view the clip cast to: <http://www.noelgyger.ca/video-clips-web.htm> It is 2007 Steelhead Video Clip #0026 and is titled: (20 pounds PLUS). Check out the other “new” 2007 Steelhead clips while you are on the website.

Noel Gyger - WEEKLY FISHING REPORT dated March 11 – March 18, 2007

Dear Fishing Friends:

My fishing reports will now cover “two” distinct areas in our beautiful province of British Columbia. These are:

- - Skeena and Tributaries
- - Northern Coastal Rivers

The weather has been fair all week. The upper Kalum, lower Copper and Skeena are still in excellent shape.

It has been a couple of months since I have been out fishing. My good friend Rob Vodola and I went fishing on Monday, March 12th on the Kalum River and we had, to say the least “blow out” Steelhead fishing. We must have hooked over 15 “wild” Steelhead, all on artificial baits. We never saw another boat and only one bank fisherman. I hooked three fish myself, on the first cast. Normally, this time of year, the water is too low for jet boats to get around but there was just enough water for my boat, I know I bumped the bottom once. The guides start guiding this river on March 15th. In addition to the Kalum River, fishing on the Kitimat River and Douglas Channel has started. See below for more details on the Kalum River.

If I can be of service to find you the “best” guided fishing adventure let me know. Cast here to check out more of what I have to offer: <http://noelgyger.ca/special-guided.htm>

Be sure to check out my website at www.noelgyger.ca for more info on my history, Quality Waters Strategy, special guided fishing trips, video clips, scenic river photos, wildlife photos and others, comments from past guests, informational articles and archived fishing reports from 1996 through 2002. I hope it meets with your entire satisfaction.

LARGEST FISH OF THE WEEK: Specie: (estimate) 20-pound Steelhead Where: Kalum River

Weather...Cloudy with sunny periods with high of + 4 degrees Celsius: Normal temperatures for this time of year: High + 7 degrees Celsius. Low - 1 degree Celsius. Sunrise 8:00 AM Sunset 7:29 PM

Water conditions...good on all rivers, low and clean

Snow conditions... almost gone.

For current water heights on the Skeena River please cast on:

<http://scitech.pyr.ec.gc.ca/water/StnFrame.asp?stnID=08EF001> Note: this site usually works best in-season.

Skeena River...is now fishable for early run Steelhead. The water is in good shape.

Kalum River...has an “excellent” run of Steelhead. These fish are wintering over and will spawn in late spring. The water is low and clean, almost too clean. The fish are very spooky. This is a Classified River year round and can be guided from March 15 through October 15 only. The Steelhead record is 32-pounds. To see a photo of this fish cast to: <http://noelgyger.ca/records/Record003.jpg>

...On Monday, March 12th Rob Vodola and I hooked around 15 Steelhead, landing 7. We went out again, with our friend Kevin on Friday, March 16th with high expectations but hooked only four, landing one. Rob hooked all of them. Kevin and I were skunked. Our excuse: The weather was bad (rain and snow) and the water was very, very clean as it had dropped a few inches since Monday. Lucky for us, there was no wind. The water was so low and clear we think the fish were spooked. I did get a nice photo and video clip of Rob’s fish but ran out of time to edit and post it on the website in time for this weeks report. It will be on next week. The fishing was slow but we still had a lot of fun! In my opinion, the water is too low now to navigate safely with a jet boat.

The Kalum River has “all” four runs of “wild” Steelhead: spring, summer, fall and winter. Other than the spring run, these fish stay in the river all winter and spawn in the late spring around late April, May and June. There is no hatchery Steelhead in the Kalum River.

Kasiks River...fishing for Coho will start again next fall. This is the river where a 27-pound record Coho was landed.

Zymoetz (Copper) River...is closed now for angling (as of December 31, 2006 above the lower canyon) to protect the “wintering over” wild Steelhead. Winter fishing is still available on the lower end below the canyon.

Note: additional rivers will be added “in season” when the fishing begins in the spring.

Ocean fishing Prince Rupert...good fishing for winter springs (Chinook) is now happening in Prince Rupert. A summary of what is available year round can be read in the Archived Fishing Report dated April 13, 1997. For a direct link cast here: <http://noelgyger.ca/archived-fishing-reports/Old%20Fishing%20Reports%201997.doc> Prince Rupert, being a coastal city, is always warmer than Terrace.

Area River Records...Chinook Salmon: Skeena River, 92.5-pounds; Kalum River, 85-pounds; Kitimat River, 74-pounds; Steelhead: Skeena River, 45-pounds; Coho Salmon: Skeena River, 27-pounds.

CURRENT REPORT and summary for Northern Coastal Rivers:

Kitimat River...Although the grip of winter seems to be still holding on, there have been a few days when a few hard core anglers have been able to venture out and catch some trout. Ariel and Pat (local anglers) drifted in pontoon boats and were able to catch five cutthroat trout. They drifted from the "Wash Out" to the "Pump House" (approx. eight miles) and never saw another angler but they spotted six moose. Last weekend Donny Webber while fishing for trout was fortunate to catch a Steelhead. "It was a 12lb. Wild Steelhead so I released it" says Donny. The Kitimat River has a retention fishery of one Hatchery Steelhead per day. The main Steelhead run usually starts in late March peaking sometime in April and carrying over into May. Report by Ron Wakita

Note: additional rivers will be added "in season" when the fishing begins in the spring.

Ocean fishing Kitimat Douglas Channel...More schools of herring have been migrating into the Kitimat Harbour with only the Seals, Sea Gulls and undoubtedly feeder Chinook taking advantage of the migration. Rivtow Marine staff (who work right on the water) have reported signs of herring for a few days now but "No Boats"

The only report of fishing the Salt water is a local Kitimaat Village resident, Crosby Smith who was rewarded with a 28lb. Chinook. "It was a fat, tasty bugger" says Crosby who dined on his catch the same day that he caught it". They certainly don't get much fresher than that not to mention the nutritional value of the Omega 3 protein contained in these feeder Chinook. It has been a long winter and it appears to be fish in the Kitimat area we can only hope for better weather to be able to catch some. Report by Ron Wakita

Area River Records...Chinook Salmon: Skeena River, 92.5-pounds; Kalum River, 85-pounds; Kitimat River, 74-pounds; Steelhead: Skeena River, 45-pounds; Coho Salmon: Skeena River, 27-pounds.

Catch & Release formula...Chinook: girth squared x length x 1.54 divided by 1000. Steelhead: Steelhead: girth squared x length x 1.33 divided by 1000 (inches)

GOOD LUCK and GOOD FISHING!

Kalum River Steelhead - 2010

Uploaded on April 2, 2010 - Another HUGE Steelhead

I went Steelhead fishing with Ron Wakita and his son Brandon on the Kalum River on April 1, 2010. We spent only four hours fishing and hooked three Steelhead and managed to land two, plus a bunch of Trout. The biggest Steelhead was estimated to weigh over 20-pounds and it "is" the STAR of this video clip. The fish is a dark buck, heavy in spawning colour. We wanted to measure him but decided not to as we wanted to release this big guy as quickly as possible. I think we did OK as he swam away as soon as he was put back into the water. Brandon says this was the largest Steelhead he has every landed. The fish can be caught with spin, conventional or fly rods.

For this fish Brandon was using: Spinning Rod: 8' Trophy XL. Spinning Reel: Abu Garcia Cardinal Stamina Drag. Line: Braided Tuf-Line Duracast. Lure: Gibbs Koho 55. Hook: 3/0 Gamakatsu Siwash (open eye) barb pinched down. Landing Net: Gibbs Catch and Release (soft mesh)

DFO's Mandate - it not what we thought

Hello, A couple of days ago I went to the Fisheries and Oceans Canada website to find exactly what DFO's mandate is. I was curious how far off the mark they have drifted.

Well I was in for a major surprise. One of DFO's highest priorities on a very short list is currently to support "biotechnology."

DFO's Mandate is Not What We Thought

The "Fisheries" in Fisheries and Oceans Canada - is not wild fish.

Then I added up DFO's latest behaviour and worse than not having wild fish on the to-do list, there is a lot of sneaking around hiding things.

The salmon farmers using BC can't meet current allowable production, but they are begging for more access to the land, more leases, fewer laws and their own private corporate-owned fishery. DFO is changing the laws, opening the coast to them and hiding the information needed to protect wild salmon.

I have listed what I think we need to do.

Friends of Wild Salmon

...will change the world

Because in Kitimat they just did.

On Saturday, Kitimat residents came out in droves to vote in a special plebiscite on the Enbridge pipeline and tankers plan. In a community that stood to get the most jobs -- an industry town at its heart -- residents voted a resounding NO to the risky Enbridge project.

They did so despite a process many felt was unfair. The Haisla in Kitimaat Village were excluded. Non-Canadian citizens were allowed to vote. And to top it off, with no campaign spending limits in place, Enbridge pummeled the community with ads, signs and paid employees going door to door.

In the face of this, who stood up to big oil? Douglas Channel Watch did. They're a group of residents, many of them retired, who care deeply about the coast and the future of their community. They met in Margaret's garage, painted signs by hand and knocked on their neighbours' doors night after night.

In the end, they came out on top, with the "No" side winning by a margin of 58% to 42%.

We want to thank the people of Kitimat and our friends at Douglas Channel Watch. Want to join us? You can leave a message on their FaceBook Page. Even better, take a moment to write a letter to editor of the Kitimat Northern Sentinel.

With all of Enbridge's fancy ads blanketing the airwaves day after day, it's easy to start to think this pipeline is inevitable. It isn't. Ordinary people just like you and I and the folks at Douglas Channel Watch can stop it.

And we're going to.

Deadline Monday - Wild salmon need your response

Hello, West Coast Environmental Law sent out a critical alert on changes to the Fisheries Act that will allow the three Norwegian companies that own 98% of the BC salmon farming industry to use stronger drugs to de-louse the fish in their pens. Apparently the deadline is tomorrow. Increased drug resistant sea lice is impacting their profits in other regions and the prohibition against release of deleterious substances in Canada's Fisheries Act is an impediment to them.

Cast here for details

On February 25, 2014, the Minister of Fisheries, Gail Shea, met with The Senate Committee on Fisheries and Oceans about salmon farms and raised this point:

"We're working hard to resolve long-standing regulatory irritants to the industry and the provinces"

David Bevan Associate Deputy Minister at the same meeting clarified this point:
"Under section 36, it's illegal to put into the water any harmful substances, so that was a very critical impediment to further operations of the aquaculture industry, so that's what we're currently dealing with."

Trevor Swerdfager, Assistant Deputy Minister, Ecosystems and Fisheries Management told the Senate Committee:

"...in British Columbia we're in a position now where I think the scenarios and " signals are all positive, we think, anyway. The industry is getting ready for a bit of a takeoff there."

Indeed two new salmon farms have been applied for off Port Hardy, on Hope Island in Goletas Channel. A First Nation is listed as the applicant, but Marine Harvest's name is on the map. I do not argue this First Nation's involvement, but it has to be recognized this is on the migration route of Fraser sockeye and other salmon and so they are in a position where they are making a decision for all who live south of them, who want wild salmon. This is the nature of wild salmon, anything that happens to them along their migration route affects a lot of communities that depend on the resource.

Please consider going to the West Coast Environmental Law site and help us try to keep the prohibition against release of harmful chemicals under the Fisheries Act intact. WCEL has done a great job of making this easy for you.

Thank you,

Alexandra Morton

Congratulations to Pat Moss, recipient of the 2014 Irving Fox Award at last evening's BVRC AGM. The nomination letter reads, "If you dig around any of the major environmental campaigns affecting northwest B.C. over the past 40 years, you are bound to find evidence of Pat Moss, hard at work on the frontlines, seated at the table, or working quietly behind the scenes." The BVRC agrees! Thanks for all your hard work, Pat Moss.

Going Global - finally!

Hello, my personal fight to protect life in the waters around my home in a remote archipelago of the BC coast has stretched on for several decades. What began as a letter writing campaign on behalf of fishermen neighbours (who lost their fishing grounds as a result of fish farm industry activity), became ten years of sea lice research, then a decade of activism, involvement in lawsuits, and virus tracking.

Today, I am excited to be launching a website that brings together all that I have learned into one site. I hope to educate and inform people on what happens to their bodies, our children and our world, when they buy and consume a piece of farmed salmon. I also want to let you know what you can do to protect yourselves and our oceans.

I am writing to ask for your help. Please click on site www.alexandramorton.ca. By doing so, you will help build a strong pathway to this website through the ether-world of the internet.

The single greatest thing I have learned is that whether in BC, Chile, the UK, Norway or elsewhere no one can fight this aggressive Norwegian industry single-handedly.

We can feed ourselves in a much better way, but first the dirty, wasteful ways have to be shown the door.

So please visit alexandramorton.ca and help power the search engines that will take our experience global.

I am humbled by your ongoing donations and support. Thank you all for sticking with me on this. I can see light at the end of this tunnel, but it continues a very tough fight.

Farmed salmon health risk – update

Hello, when a Norwegian research pediatrician went public with the news that women of child-bearing-age risk the development of their babies brains when they eat farmed salmon, I began following the story. This was not the first time we heard this news.

In my blog Guide to Safe Salmon I have posted a 3 minute film on what happens when you squeeze a piece of farmed salmon and I list what is known about the health risks of eating farmed salmon.

On the navigation bar you can go directly to the translated newspaper articles from Norway and see what they are saying, how the politicians have responded, what Norway did to the scientists that first raised the warnings, how Norway has lobbied to increase toxins in farmed salmon. It is a scandal.

We urgently need to decide if we are going to continue to risk our wild salmon, and health just to allow Norway to grow more and more of their fish here in BC. It is hard to find anything beneficial about salmon farming. The only benefit to BC is a few jobs. We could decide to focus on much more intelligent aquaculture, work with the wild salmon to restore them and have twice as many jobs.

The only people affected would be the shareholders of these companies who would have to decide to buy shares in something different. Seems a small price to pay for a healthy coast, economy and food.

If the strong Norwegian lobby was removed I think we would see a diverse BC land-based aquaculture industry thrive without growing salmon at all. Salmon viruses would no longer a federal secret. We could get to work healing this coast and using some of the incredibly powerful science now available to turn BC wild salmon back on!

You can help by:

Join the Salmon Are Sacred facebook page and help with the public outreach to supermarkets.

In the next few weeks, millions of young wild salmon will be swimming to sea past salmon farms. They will be exposed to whatever viruses, bacteria and lice are in the farms. There is nothing smart about bathing wild salmon in industrial feedlot waste.... nothing at all.

Rodgers Fishing Lodge is located on the west coast of Vancouver Island about 90 miles due west of Campbell River in Esperanza Inlet. Rodgers is one of the busiest fishing lodges on the B.C. coast, entertaining over 1000 guests a year. They also enjoy one of the longest seasons on the coast, operating 19 weeks in 2013.

This will be their 31st year in the Sport Fishing business and their 20th year in Esperanza Inlet. Rodgers has shown a remarkable rate of growth over the past 3 years due mainly to an aggressive, innovative and successful marketing programme. Their gross revenue has more than doubled since 2010 and 2014 looks to be another banner year with over 550 guests already booked.

The Lodge has a location second to none as it is ideally situated to take advantage of some of the most outstanding fishing opportunities on the BC coast for Salmon, Halibut, Bottom Fish and Tuna. The addition of Tuna fishing this year will add a new dimension to the business and will add increased revenue to the months of August and September. The Tuna fishery is going to be a huge breakthrough in the future for West Coast fishing lodges. Rodgers Lodge is perfectly positioned to take advantage of it. Historically, the Tuna in their migration pattern will follow the warm water temperatures that occur along the Continental Shelf. In Rodgers Lodge's location the Continental Shelf is just 12 to 15 miles offshore as opposed to 50 miles offshore for places like Tofino and Bamfield.

Black Bear and Bald Eagles are regularly seen by the lodge. They have the largest colonies of Sea Otters on the coast and the Gray, Orca and Humpback Whales pass by on their way to and from the Bering Sea.

The owners love the business and wish that they were 30 years younger. However, they feel that it is now time to turn the reins over to someone who shares the same passion for the outdoors and who is looking for a wonderful rewarding lifestyle.
